

One Effect of Census.

Washington, November 13.—The election aside, the most important event during the past week has been the announcement of the census totals for the United States and for the several States, for on these will be based the representation of the States in Congress and in the electoral college during the coming ten years. Of course the determination of the total number of Congressmen depends entirely on Congress, which may make it whatever it pleases. There is however, some reason to suppose that there will be an addition of about thirty members to the House, as this is the least number possible that will not require the representation of any State to be cut down. If this number is adopted, the total in the House will be 387 and the total electoral vote will be 477, necessary to a choice 239. Of the increase of thirty, the New England States will get two, the east seven, the middle west eight, the far west three and the south ten. This phenomenal increase in the south was not expected and will certainly cause a renewal of the efforts to cut down the representation of that section in accordance with the number of negro voters assumed to have been disqualified under illiteracy clauses. As the Republicans have full control of all branches of the government at present, there will in all probability be a bitter fight before this matter is finally decided.

The membership of the House may be increased further by the addition of one, two or three States. Oklahoma is the most promising aspirant for Statehood. According to the census returns Oklahoma has 398,245 inhabitants, which would entitle it to two members of Congress if it were admitted, and, as it is customary to admit States when they have more people than necessary for a Congressional district, it is safe to assume that Oklahoma will soon be granted Statehood. It has a larger population than Delaware, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Utah, Vermont or Wyoming and almost as large as Rhode Island or Oregon. In fact, the population of Montana, Nevada and Wyoming combined is exceeded by that of Oklahoma, and while these have three members in the House and six Senators, Oklahoma has no representation in either Chamber, except a delegate in the House, who has no vote. New Mexico has nearly as many residents as a Congressional district—193,777—and may be allowed to enter the Union, while Arizona is climbing upward with 122,212 inhabitants. All three may be admitted before the election of 1904, and if so, the following electoral college will consist of 487 votes, with 244 necessary to elect.

Catarrh

Is a disease of the mucous membrane or inner lining of the nose, throat, lungs, stomach, bowels and other organs. It is caused by a cold or succession of colds irritating the delicate surfaces, and is promoted by scrofulous taints in the blood.

It is especially dangerous in persons having a predisposition to consumption.

In these and all other catarrhal cases, Hood's Sarsaparilla so thoroughly renovates the blood and restores strength that it permanently cures.

In fact, because of the character of the disease, and peculiar merit of the remedy, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only common sense treatment for catarrh.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Promises to cure and keeps the promise. No substitute for Hood's acts like Hood's—be sure to get Hood's.

trial corporations to attend this gathering, the object being to assemble here all the vital forces that enter into the industrial or business life of the South.

The purpose of the convention is to promote union of sentiment and effort, for the industrial upbuilding of the South. It is sought through such an assemblage to secure a policy that will induce the South to manufacture her own raw materials, on her own soil and by her own people. It has no selfish ends to serve, no private interests to advance; neither has it any class to benefit or antagonize, but through this agency to reach public sentiment for the advancement of all interests and the protection of all classes throughout our fair land.

We believe no stronger obligation rests upon the citizen at this time, than to seek the fulfillment of these ends and purposes. We feel that this should be brought home to all as a duty they owe to their country and posterity, for in no other way, nor through any other policy can the people of the South hope to reach those greater possibilities that lie before them, or secure those higher attainments awaiting them on every hand.

To any and all interested in, or in sympathy with, these aims and purposes, or any of the subjects found in the accompanying program, the invitation is most cordially extended to come to this convention and participate in its proceedings. A New Orleans welcome awaits all who attend!

The railroads have been applied to for a round trip rate of one fare from all points controlled by Southern roads, and it is believed this will be granted. In any event, all who intend coming should apply at once to their nearest railroad agent for rate and conditions and govern themselves accordingly.

N. F. THOMPSON, Secretary.

Sick-poison is a poison which makes you sick. It comes from the stomach. The stomach makes it out of undigested food.

The blood gets it and taints the whole body with it. That's the way of it. The way to be rid of it is to look after your digestion.

If your food is all properly digested, there will be none left in the stomach to make sick-poison out of.

If your stomach is too weak to see to this properly by itself, help it along with a few doses of Shaker Digestive Cordial.

That's the cure of it. Shaker Digestive Cordial is a delicious, healthful, tonic cordial, made of pure medicinal plants, herbs and wine.

It positively cures indigestion and prevents the formation of sick-poison. At druggists. Trial bottles 10 cents.

SAVED BY THE BEARS

THEY ROUTED THE REVENUE MEN WHO WERE HUNTING WHISKY.

Zeb White Tells How the Pesky Varmints Sampled His Moonshine Juice and the Result, and Mrs. Zeb Has a Word to Say About Brains.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

"We'd bin makin moonshine whisky over in the big ravine fur about three weeks," said the old possum hunter of Tennessee, "when a thumpin big b'ar cum down out of the thicket one day and acted in a mighty cur'us way. It was in the summer, and he was sheddin his fur, and though I had my rifle handy, I didn't keer to shoot him. That b'ar smelt the whisky, and he sniffed and sniffed and seemed to want a taste. I hollered at him and driv him off two or three times, but he kept comin back. My ole woman had come over with my supper, and arter watchin the b'ar fur awhile she said:

"Zeb, that b'ar wants a drink of co'n juice suah's yo'r bo'n, and I'm fur givin it to him."

"I laughed at the idea, but as he continued to hang around the place the ole woman poured about a pint of the stuff into a pan and set it on a stone 30 rods away. She had skassly turned her back befo' the b'ar was lappin it up, and he smacked his lips over it just like a man. In a leetle while he walked off, and later on we heard sich a row down around the bend that we crept down to see what it was. It was our b'ar and his mate. That pint of whisky had made our b'ar feel mighty jolly, and he was in-

A Village Blacksmith Saved His Little Son's Life.

Mr. H. H. Black, the well-known village blacksmith at Grahamville, Sullivan county, N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and so had have attacks been that we have feared many times that he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to dissolve the tough mucous and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given as confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by Wight & Bro. and all medicine dealers.

sist in that the other b'ar dance around and roll over with him. One was drunk and jolly and the other sober and mad, and the way they carried on was as good as a circus. Next day both b'ars showed up fur whisky and went off as jolly as you please, and half an hour later I walked right up to them as they slept and snored. I wasn't fur givin away any mo' lickin, but the ole woman thinks it over and says:

"Zeb, the fur of them b'ars won't be wuth shucks fur three months, but what's the matter with shettin the varmints up in our outdoor cellar fur the rest of the summer? I reckon we kin manage to feed 'em, and each hide will fetch $15 as soon as the fur is prime."

"I decided that it was a good idea, and we put out a hull quart of whisky fur 'em, but fur some reason they had left the neighborhood. The ole woman reckoned they'd got ashamed of themselves and gone off to avoid temptashun, and I kinder figured that they was off spreadin the news and invitin other b'ars to come along and sheer a good thing. We'd about given up seein 'em ag'in when they showed up. I was all alone at the still that day, but I had ropes at hand to tie 'em up in case our plan worked, and I poured two full quarts of whisky into the pan and set it out in the old place. Them b'ars had bin roam'n around and keepin sober fur so long that they was dry'n fur a spree, and they lapped up every drop of that lickin and licked their chops fur mo'. They didn't git jolly, as I looked fur. On the contrary, they snarled and growled and wanted to pick a fuss with each other. Mebbe a b'ar is like a man about drinkin. Let him git too much, and he's ugly instead of jolly. I waited awhile and then follered 'em, hopin to find 'em asleep, and that's how I cum to see a sight to make my ha'r stand up.

"Down around the bend in the ravine was a grassy spot, and what I saw was them b'ars rollin four men over the ground. It wasn't a minit befo' I knowed who them men was. They was revenoo sellers who hed got news of my still and was sneakin up the ravine to ketch me red handed. The b'ars had met 'em and pitched right in. I reckon the fellers was too surprised to fire a shot, though all had Dothen, Ala., April 24th, 1899. Mr. J. R. Young, Dothen, Ala.—Dear Sir: This is to certify that I received great relief from the bottle of Hall's Great Discovery which I bought of you. In fact, I do not think there is anything to equal it. I was troubled for about two months with lame back and after taking one-half bottle I consider myself cured. Yours truly, J. J. WILLIS.

pistols, and the way them b'ars did slam 'em around was a caution. Two of the fellers broke away as soon as I got thar, but the other two was so badly clawed that arter the b'ars left 'er they could skassly crawl, and I'm suah they laid out in the woods all night. I was much obleeged to the varmints, as yo' may reckon, as they hed saved me from a surprise, and in my gratitude I said to the ole woman:

"I ain't gwine to play no tricks on a varmint what has saved me from ruin, and I shan't try to captur 'em."

"Deed, but I'll furnish 'em with free co'n juice and let 'em hev a good time."

"They was back next day fur their drink, and rememberin how a quart had made 'em ugly drunk I only sot out a pint. They lapped it up and looked fur mo', and when no mo' was fo'theomin they gin us a surprise party. Thar was fo' men of us at the still that day, and arter growlin around fur awhile them b'ars cum chargin down upon us. We had to scatter mighty sudden, and they kept us away fur an hour. Thar was no whisky to be got at, and they tore down our shanty, clawed our blankets into strips and went off growlin at each other. We didn't see 'em ag'in fur a month. Then one day as I was carryin a keg of the stuff on my shoulder along a mountain path I run full tilt into the two of 'em. I knowed 'em in a minit, and I jest counted on hev'n a fuss with 'em. It was no use tryin to git away, and I put down the keg and stood back to gin 'em a chance at it. But they didn't take it. They walked up and sniffed about, and as soon as they recognized the smell they sorter shook their heads and walked off and gin me a clear road. As I figured it, them b'ars had tried whisky and found that it brung nuthin but headaches and fightin and hard knocks. They'd jest made up their minds that it was bad stuff an' hed gone back on it, and that keg was no temptashun. Yes, suh, they walked off and let me pass on, and I never shall bear the last of it from the ole woman. I never hev taken a nip of co'n juice since then that she wasn't ready to speak out:

"Thar yo' go ag'in, Zeb White! Law me, but if yo' only hed the brains of a b'ar, what a happy woman I'd be!" M. QUAD.

The Blue Pencil.

"This," said the man who was showing the visitors about the office of the metropolitan daily, "is the copy readers' room. It is the place where the matter sent in for publication is boiled down to the right dimensions."

"Doesn't that make it warm?" giggled one of the young women.

"No," he replied. "But the men who write the stuff get pretty hot over it sometimes."—Chicago Tribune.

"Sometimes it's a good deal harder not to propose," returned the man of worldly experience thoughtfully. "It's always well to be on your guard."

Cool and Methodical. A lawyer who worthily bears a distinguished name occupies an old-fashioned mansion on the edge of New York. His sister, who lives with him, tells a laughable story, which is reported in Harper's Round Table, illustrating his coolness and love of method. Recently his sister tiptoed into his room some time after midnight and told him she thought burglars were in the house. The lawyer put on his dressing gown and went down stairs.

In the back hall he found a man looking into the door to open a door that led into the back yard. The burglar had unlocked the door and was pulling at it with all his might. The lawyer, seeing the robber's predicament, called to him:

"It does not open that way, you idiot! It slides back!"

Rheumatism and all forms of Blood Poisoning, Dyspepsia, Catarrh and Malaria.

James Newton, Aberdeen, Ohio, says P. P. P. did him more good than three months treatment at Hot Springs, Ark.

W. T. Timmons, of Waxahatchie, Tex., says his rheumatism was so bad that he was confined to his bed for months. Physicians advised Hot Springs, Ark., and Mineral Wells, Texas, at which places he spent seven weeks in vain, with knees so badly swollen that his tortures were beyond endurance. P. P. P. made the cure, and proved itself, as in thousands of other cases, the best blood purifier in the world, and superior to all Sarsaparillas and the so-called Rheumatic Springs.

F. F. Ballantyne, of Ballantyne & McDonough's Iron Foundry, Savannah, Ga., says that he has suffered for years from Rheumatism, and could get no relief from any source but P. P. P., which cured him entirely. He extols the properties of P. P. P. on every occasion.
